Price reduced to 245,000 Welcome to your very own treehouse! At least that is what it feels like once inside. At a total of almost 2000 sq ft this raised rancher has ample space for all of your needs and wants. Nestled on a corner lot amongst mature trees and nice landscaping, this unique home is one of a kind. Starting as a blank slate, the family of the estate wanted to give the new buyers a cozy home to be able to move into. With many hours of hard work and love, they have transformed many areas of this home from sleepy to spectacular. Entering the home from the large second level porch, take a minute and look at your views throughout the beautiful countryside. Feel the cool air coming from the mountainside directly into your home. The living room has been painted, and new carpet installed. Notice the tiled bar that separates the living and dining area. Dining room hard woods have been given a new stain and a splash of colorful wallpaper feature wall makes a statement. Kitchen has a smaller but functional footprint with its green cabinetry and tile countertops and flooring. This room has been given a new wallpaper making it feel clean and fresh. Three bedrooms have been given a fresh paint job and new carpet. One Full bath on this level has been freshened up with a navy-blue painted cabinet. Entire hallway and lower-level entrance has been painted and new carpet installed. Lower level gives you so much extra space to
